FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wednesday, April 12, 2017

Come to the It's On Us T-shirt Showcase to see more than 300 t-shirts have been designed by Pitt students, faculty, and staff to help raise awareness and provide support to victims of sexual assault. Thursday, April 13th Shirts will be displayed from 1-5pm on the WPU side lawn and organizations will be tabling on the front and side lawn from 1-4pm. OCC Wellness credit eligible.

Join us for the poster presentations and roundtable discussions as part of the Year of Diversity in Summary! Students, faculty, staff, and post-docs can browse posters and beverages and cookies will be served. The event will be this Thursday, April 13th from 12-5pm in the Lowe Lounge of the William Pitt Union.

Updates from SGB can now directly to your pocket! Get updates on initiatives, surveys, and events going on around you easily by signing up for SGB text message updates. Visit our website for a link and instructions and be more connected than ever: <http://sgb.pitt.edu/text-message-updates/>

SGB last night introduced a bill to provide all Pitt students with free online subscriptions to the New York Times! Access to digital subscriptions will save money and paper waste on campus and SGB hopes to notify incoming students by providing instructions in Arrival Survival packets and in residence halls. To sign up, visit <https://myaccount.nytimes.com/verification/edupass>

SGB last night welcomed its new committee chairs, after having received 193 applications! SGB continues to encourage students to get involved and make their voice heard. SGB last night introduced a bill to move the first open floor of each week's public meeting earlier so that students with conflicts may better be able to attend meetings and raise questions or concerns.
