Statement on In-Person Classes

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

On Monday, September 14th, additional in-person classes may be offered on our Pittsburgh campus, as outlined by a University-wide email from Provost Cudd on Friday. All in-person instruction must adhere to standards and guidelines on shared spaces, while classrooms have been prepared and equipped to facilitate a safe learning environment.

Yet, it is important to highlight that students can continue to learn remotely, as per our Flex@Pitt teaching and learning model. Our campus remains in the Elevated Risk posture and the COVID-19 Medical Response Office continues to report an increase of cases in our community over the last few weeks – especially amongst off-campus students. It is important to keep in mind that we are still in a pandemic. Continue to wear a face covering, practice physical distancing, wash your hands often, and avoid large gatherings that do not adhere to public health and University guidelines.

The Student Government Board will continue to monitor the University's COVID-19 response and address and advocate for the concerns and interests of the undergraduate student body. If you have specific comments, concerns, questions, or ideas for SGB, please email us at sgb@pitt.edu or use our Fix It Pitt form, which can be found on our website.
